

Shared mindset: eCOA Vendor and Biotech alignment

Biotechs play a pivotal role in driving innovation, contributing significantly to the development of groundbreaking therapies for patients.

But they are operating under tremendous pressure due to time and cost constraints, limited internal resources, and the substantial impact of each clinical trial project. These specific challenges demand trusted partners for clinical trial success.

Kayentis understands these challenges and is committed to being a trusted partner for biotechs.

FLEXIBILITY

As Biotechs, you are more agile than big pharma, and thus more flexible in planning and implementing clinical trials. You generally react quicker to changes and make decisions more rapidly than big pharma organizations.

- As a mid-size eCOA expert, we have the ability to respond to changes in the same short timeframe, to make decisions and implement changes swiftly.
- Unrivaled collaboration coupled with a robust questionnaire library allows us to meet the most efficient project set up to ensure reaching your Go-Live requirements.

COMMITMENT

Your small biotech teams have broad roles and responsibilities to endorse alongside with deep commitment. You require partners to be not only experts, but also fully dedicated to supporting your clinical endeavors.

- Our dedicated teams of experts share the same level of commitment and vision for addressing challenges.
- We have developed a deep understanding of the complex intricacies and importance of every biotech clinical project, enabling us to successfully navigate your clinical trials from start to end.

COST EFFECTIVENESS

As a biotech, you're facing timeline challenges, with the need to quickly access the study results. You require efficiency to speed up the delivery of results and improve cost effectiveness.

- Engaging early in your clinical trial, we support you with highly accommodating and qualified resources to optimize timeline and efficiency spanning from project set up to database lock.
- At Kayentis, we understand the importance of budget considerations and offer competitive pricing that is tailored to your needs to further optimize the cost-effectiveness of your clinical trials.
