Kayentis announces the creation of its strategic committee

kayentis · Tuesday, November 17th, 2015

Four leading figures in Life Sciences have accepted director Guillaume Juge's invitation to join the body and they are Pr Patrizia Paterlini-Brechot, Pierre-Olivier Goineau, Pr Ronan Roussel and Pr Stephen Senn. All have been chosen for their expertise in how to deal with clinical trials and their regulatory issues and their leaning towards technological solutions.

For Guillaume Juge, "the main aim of this strategic committee is to help Kayentis develop its product offering and roadmap. Members will also be given the opportunity to contribute to the international development of a French CRO (clinical research organization).

About the members of the strategic committee

- Pr Patrizia Paterlini-Bréchet: Professor of Cellular Biology and Oncology at the Necker-Enfants malades Faculty of Medicine in Paris. Inventor of the ISET test (Isolation by Size of Epithelial Tumor cells), a non-invasive diagnostic method for solid cancers.
- Pierre-Olivier Goineau: co-founder of Erytech pharma. President of Goineau Development & Finance and France Biotech.
- Pr Ronan Roussel: Professor of Diabetology and Endocrinology at the Bichat-Claude Bernard hospital and the Cordeliers Research Centre.
- Stephen Senn: Professor of Statistics and a specialist in clinical research methodology. Head of Unit at the Luxembourg Institute of Health's "research methodology and statistics" competence centre.
